COVERS RICHEST GOLD AREA IN CALIFORNIA

Vol. 12, No. 38. The County Seat Paper NEVADA CITY, CALIFORNIA The Gold Center MONDAY, MAY 9, 1938.

The Liberty of the Press consists in the right to publish the Truth, with good motives and for justifiable ends. — Alexander Hamilton

Thinking Out Loud

ED. NOTE: This column today is given over to an article written by the Hon. Clare E. Hoffman, Congressman from Michigan. We are only sorry that no California Congressman has said anything worthy of quotation concerning the Communist demonstrations in Salinas, Stockton, Crockett or Nevada County. But here is a man in Michigan who is not afraid. We quote him:

It was Earl Browder, Communist candidate for President, who said:

"We industrial unionists are going to take over the industries some day for three very good reasons:

"1. Because we need them.

"2. Because we want them.

"3. Because we have the power to get them."

It is John L. Lewis, self-appointed head of the CIO, who, trampling upon the rights of the worker and the employer, disregarding all law, with millions at his command, is, by brute force, translating those words into action.

On a Sunday, a day set apart for the worship of the One who gave us life, the CIO brought death to Chicago, furnishing a typical illustration of the extent to which Lewis will go to attain his ends.

Many men who have delusions of grandeur do not hesitate to send men to their death. Lewis is one of them.

He pretends he is fighting for human rights, for the advancement of the worker. He had no quarrel over wages, hours or conditions of labor, with the management of the struck plants.

CLOSES PLANTS

Nevertheless, in his determination to make these employers bend the knee and bow the head and acknowledge in writing his supremacy, he decreed that their plants throughout the country should be closed.

He knew that, in the Illinois plant 1,400 workers who did not desire to follow his leadership, over whom he had no control, were working and desired to remain at work. He knew that those workers and that plant were protected.

Knowing this, yet determined to win at any cost, following the procedure he had sanctioned elsewhere, a mob of more than a thousand, armed with clubs, knives, stones and bricks, was formed; and, cowardly, placing its women in the vanguard, marched down upon and brutally attacked the police, the guardians of law and order.

SENT TO THEIR DEATH

Riot, battle and bloodshed followed. In a few short moments, the battle was over, four of those who had been deluded and misled by Lewis' words and actions, lay dead upon the field Five more have since died, and over a hundred ,including twenty-five uniformed policemen, were seriously injured.

These men died because John L. Lewis sent them to their death. Their blood is upon his hands He cannot escape responsibility.

The CO plans still further bloodshed. Determined to impose its will regardless of consequences, Lewis' field man, Leo Krzyski, on June 1st, at Chicago said:

"We are going to fight on to victory regardless of the cost in lives,"

LEADER'S BLOOD TOO PRECIOUS

If CIO persists, blood will be spilled, but it will not be Krzyski's blood, it will not be the blood of CIO Communist agitators, it will not be the blood of John L. Lewis; it will be the blood of the workers, of women and of innocent children.

Lewis has adopted the methods of the Red Communists. In 1924, he described their purpose in these words:

"Imported revolution is knocking at the door of the United Mine Workers of America and of the American people. The overthrow and destruction of this government, with the establishment of an absolute and arbitrary dictatorship, and the elimination of all forms of popular voice in governmental affairs, is being attempted."

Today, John L. Lewis, by the same methods, with the aid of the same men, some of whom he denounced as "fakirs, repudiated leaders, traitors to the unions, opportunists, and purveyors of every falsehood, slander and deception," is paving the way for the destruction of our Government; for the establishment of an absolute and arbitrary dictatorship, with himself as dictator To use his own words, "Revolution is knocking at the door of the American people"

RIGHTS IGNORED

Shoulder to shoulder with communists who have become his friends, disregarding all law, ignoring the rights of all those who disagree with him or who will not follow his banner, the CIO, under his leadership, is driving hundreds of thousands from their jobs while the Government is spending billions of dollars to give men work.

Lewis and his Red followers, as communist Browder prophesied, have been taking over industrial plants because they want them; because, so far, thanks to cowardly and traitorous public officials, no hand has been raised to stay them; because, as Browder said, they have the power to take them.

WORKERS BALKED

They have kidnapped and held for ransom industrial plants until the workers and owners met their demands. They have put a burden upon

Hard Times Boloney At Highway Dinner

By KATHERINE BRAITHWAITE

If I am not mistaken, gold was discovered in this region of California sometime in the late forties. Immediately afterwards there arose in the land a great demand for shoes and ships and cabbages and the kings of four suits—not to mention beans, whiskey, flour and other necessities. To speed up the delivery of these goods a trail was cut through the heart of the foothills between Auburn, Grass Valley and Nevada City for the convenience of mules and the freight wagons.

Our forefathers did not mind this road. They were too busy mining, farming and fighting over ditch rights. Besides they had never heard of Fords and Packards and gasoline driven trucks. Buggies, surries, and spring wagons was the limit to their ambitions for speed and they took the ruts and bumps for granted. To them hardships were a daily portion of their pioneering lives.

The years have flown all too quickly since the days of the gold rush yet during all of the eighty odd years little or nothing has been done to improve the immigrant trail between Nevada City and Auburn. The horse drawn vehicles have long since been replaced by automobiles and trucks. The gold that was recovered in Sierra, Nevada, Placer and El Dorado counties built up superior California. Otherwise there never would have been the splendid capitol of Saoramento surrounded for hundreds of miles with thriving gold mining towns.

Yet this region of the state has been the land of forgotten roads. Just about twenty years ago the Auburn mule trail received a lick and a promise of asphalt and oil. That has been the only dividend paid on the thousands of dollars the tax payers of our mining counties have received on their money going out for good road improvements.

Not so long ago the California State Highway Commission started out on a four day inspection tour of northern California. Their itinerary included Nevada County and the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce, under the auspices of the California State Chamber of Commerce, gave a dinner at the Bret Harte Inn last Friday evening in honor of the commission.

Earl Lee Kelly was not present but he was represented by Edward J. Neuron, deputy director of the state department of public works. Present in the official party, also, were Fred C. Tatten, president of the Sacramento Valley Chamber of Commerce, Charles Whitmore, division engineer of Marysville, J. M. Hicock, assistant maintenance engineer in charge of surveys, Pat Campbell, engineer in charge of city and cooperative projects, chairman Ray H. Judah of Santa Cruz, William H. Hart of Carlsbad and Paul Jasper of Fortuna.

Representative citizens of Downieville, Nevada City, Grass Valley and Auburn were present at the dinner and presented the highway needs of our part of the state. President James Henwood of the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce welcomed the commission to the city then turned meeting over to John Larue, chairman of the chamber highway committee.

Judge Raglan Tuttle spoke for Nevada City and pointed out our needs for new highway laterals. Bert Cassidy of Auburn agreed with Judge Tuttle. Judge George L. Jones played upon the esthetic and historical side of the men in the commission and carried all listeners back along the trail of the forty-niner. Mayor Benjamin Hall of Nevada City and Mayor John R. Thomas of Grass Valley asked that the Auburn trail be enlarged to a highway. County engineer Fred Miller compared the narrow buggy road to the wide smooth highways of other counties. Joe O'Conner hoped the commission understood that we would never be satisfied by having a few bumps taken out of the present road, which has been our usual portion.

I could go on down the line and fill a column mentioning names and stating their personal opinios of the Auburn road. And if you have driven over this section of chuckholes and washboard ridges you will agree that every word these men said is true and the deplorable conditions of 1849 have only been slightly improved up to 1939. Yet the highway commission gave us scanty encouragement for the future.

Ray L. Judah presented a dismal picture of the financial problems facing the highway commission. He had me wringing my hands in anguish when he told us four hundred million dollars would be needed in the next thirty five years to take care of all the demands for highway work. It seems as if poor old John Tax Payer will have to dig up another half cent on his gasoline to pay the bill.

I probably will be too old to ride, sitting up, on a highway in 1979, but just to show you I am endowed with civic pride I'll vote yes on amendment number 28.

Edward J. Neuron introduced his staff and I listened to some more discouraging speeches and chewed my pencil into splinters while I waited for something to write about. By the time I got down to the rubber eraser I realized we were all being taken for a gallop on a wooden horse a la Pierson and Drew. I could even guess who would win the brass ring.

GIRLS ATTEND HOME ECONOMICS CONVENTION

A delegation from the Nevada City Home Economics club attended a convention at Chico for the Home Economics clubs of Northern California. The girls brought back many new ideas for their club. Each club presented some sort of entertainment. Nevada City's contribution was a Chinese song and dance by Vedra Ann Yuen and a tap dance by Fay Dean White and Joyce Henwood. The girls with Miss McKnight enjoyed themselves very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Whitaker had as recent guests Allen Giovanetti and W. Barceloux of Orland. Giovanetti formerly resided on Grove street in Nevada City and was interested in mining. He conducts a butcher shop in Orland.

JUDGE DOUBTS JURISDICTION IN C. I. O. CASE

The hearing in the district Federal Court in Sacramento today, presided over by Federal Judge Roche, in the matter of the $1,196,000,000 damage suit brought by the CIO against Nevada City and Grass Valley residents closed at about four o'clock and Judge Roche took the matter under advisement.

Mayor Ben Hall, of Nevada City, had filed a motion in the United States District Court to dismiss the $1,196,000,000 damage suit and restraining order petition

Federal Judge Michael Roche took under submission shortly after four o'clock this afternoon in the District Federal Court a motion on the part of Grass Valley and Nevada City residents for dismissal of the fabulous damage action brought by the CIO. After hearing the argument, Judge Roche said that he was inclined to agree with Attorney Eustace Cullinan's argument, that the district federal court had no jurisdiction in the case. Judge Roche said he would make the decision after studying the record further. In the event that he upholds the CIO in the matter of the jurisdiction in the matter, he said he will immediately call a hearing on an injunction which the CIO is seeking to restrain the Nevada county residents from interfering with the CIO activities and picketing at the Murchie mine.

Attorney Herbert Resner represented the CIO union at the hearing. Eustace Cullinan acted as spokesman for the Nevada City delegation of attorneys, which numbered approximately ten.

No witnesses were presented at the hearing, Judge Roche heard only the arguments on the question of jurisdiction.

MANILA QUAKE DESCRIBED BY NEV. CITY MAN

J. J. Sutton, well known salesman of mining machinery, has returned from a three months visit to the Philippines in the interests of his company.

Mr. Sutton states that while there he met several Nevada County mining men who were making good, but that the climate of Manila is so humid and depressing and mosquito infested that one just exudes perspiration day and night. While there are some air conditioned hotels, they are not popular because when one has to leave them the change in temperature is much harder to bear.

The water is so polluted that one is warned against even using it in brushing the teeth, while to drink it would invite almost certain infection.

A. M. Holmes, secretary of the State Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers has returned from a meeting of the board held in Los Angeles and San Diego While in San Diego Mr. Holmes also attended the State Coroners Convention of which organization Mr. Holmes is an honorary member.

E. J. N. Ott, Jr. of Sacramento visited over the week end with his parents in Nevada City. With several friends he fished on the American river.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN ORGANIZE IN COUNTY

A group of Nevada County women met in the Hoge Development Co. office early this afternoon and formed the Nevada County unit of the California Council of Republican Women. Mrs. Agnes Morley Cleaveland of Berkeley, working under the State Republican Central committee met with the ladies and told them about the purposes of the council and its duties. After a very interesting talk by Mrs. Cleaveland the ladies elected the following officers of the Nevada County Unit: Mrs. H. E. Kjorlie, chairman; Mrs. Ray Clinch, vice chairman; Mrs. Belle Douglass, secretary; Mrs. A. M. Hoge, Sr., treasurer and Mrs. Wilkie of Truckee, Mrs. C. E. Parsons, Miss Bernice Glasson and Mrs. James Terrell as directors.

Jane Barton Coming For Third Homecraft Institute In Nev. City

Jane Barton's Homecraft Institute featuring the Consumers Clinic, will be held under the joint auspices of Nevada City Nugget and the Pacific Rural Press here May 18, 19 and 20, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, afternoons.

Jane Barton's Homecraft Institute, which, in the last few years, has brought to several hundred thousand California homemakers the latest and most up to date information in the field of household economics, is to be held in Nevada Theatre. Mrs. Barton, most popular home economist in the west—is going to bring the 1938 methods of homemaking straight from Eastern centers to homemakers in this vicinity. Ever one of her three informal sessions will be absolutely free to everyone.

JANE BARTON

With prices on the up grade and more and more demands on the family income, Mrs. Barton believes that it is still possible to live well and enjoy a comfortable standard of living by making every dollar go further.

Home managers today are looking for products to fill their requirements The Consumers Clinic will furnish them with simple tests that everyone can make to aid in determining value and quality. The Institute will also feature discussions of how to select supplies for the home and methods of using the products when bought in ways that will ge the most out of them. Interest in the Homecraft Institute's refreshingly informal programs is not limited to those who have well equipped homes. The subjects covered are equally helpful to the small income family and rural homemaker. Everyone is expected to take part in the meetings—to ask questions and to come up on the stage after the program to see Mrs. Barton work at close quarters and to discuss their problems with her.

The Homecraft Institute this spring brings many novel hints in unusual fields. There will be a demonstration of window curtaining and a discussion of methods of solving drapery and curtaining problems in the kitchen, bednoom, living room, dinin groom and bath. Unusual and inexpensive materials will be suggested by Mrs. Barton.

The Homecraft Institute is a community project in more than fifty California cities. Public organizations are invited to participate and put on exhibitions of their work.

Souvenir folders containing the recipes and hints presented by Mrs. Barton during the program will be distributed during the Homecraft session every day. These folders are so arranged that the material on them can be quicyly transferred to recipe cards or files and notebooks.

In reply to the thousands of requests that have come from this vicinity, Mrs. Barton will present as a special feature of the Consumers Clinic ways in which the homemaker can save time on wash day. The problems invoved in washing special types of clothing will be discussed.

This newspaper urges you to set aside the dates for Mrs. Barton's three afternoons now. The Institute and Consumers Clinic will be presented at the Nevada Theatre, May 18, 19 and 20. Everyone is invited. Mark these dates on the calendar now.

FOREST HILL BURNED AREA BEING PLANTED

NEVADA CITY, May 9.—Intensive planting operations are being carried on now on the Forest Hill burn of 1937 by thirty CCC enrollees from Camp Bradley, according to Forest Supervisor DeWitt Nelson at Nevada City. Seventeen thousand young pine trees have been planted to date on thirty acres, Nelson says, and another twenty thousand trees are to be planted in the next week or ten days, bringing the total area up to about sixty acres. Experience thus far shows a very gratifying percent of survival, according to Nelson, and he is qnite encouraged in his campaign to remedy, as far as possible, the ravages of the fire. Two Nevada City young men, Bob Tucker and Henry Toccalini, who just recently completed a one year course at the New York ranger school are acting as crew bosses under the direction of Planting Foreman Laurence M. Sorensen. The planting operations in general are being carried on under the supervision andtechnical direction of District Ranger Charles Beardsley at Forest Hill, and James M. Sowder, assistant in timber management on Nelson's staff.

Riley For Senator

In presenting Ray L. Riley, distinguished member of the State Railroad Commission, and former State Controller, as the standard bearer of the Republican Party to oppose Wm. G. McAdoo for the United States Senate, at the August primary, the Republican Party unquestionably will have selected the strongest candidate in California, with which to face the battle of bringing back to the G. O. P. of this state the important office of United States Senator.

As a matter of fact, the personal popularity of Wm. G. McAdoo, or the strength of the Democratic Party, had nothing whatever to do with the election of McAdoo, in 1932. The defeat of Tallant Tubbs, who represented the Republican Party, was directly due to the Rev. Robt. Shuler, who running on the Progressive ticket, due to his tremendous personal popularity received almost 400,000 votes, which thus resulted in the defeat of Tallant Tubbs. Had Bob Shuler not been in the race, it is reasonably certain that Tallant Tubbs, the Republican nominee, would have been elected by at least 100,000 majority, due to the fact that Senator McAdoo received less than 800,000 Democratic votes.

Third Party Launched

Governor Phillip La Follette of Wisconsin, following in the footsteps of his illustrious father, has just announced the formation of a brand new third party, which he undoubtedly feels is destined to knock the tar and feathers out of both the Republican and Democratic national parties, and also destined no doubt to save the American people from political devastation and the horny hand of Fate.

For years the La Follette family have specialized in political obstruction and defiance to any established rule of political conduct. His distinguished father, Robert La Follette having once been a candidate for President on a disgruntled Third Party platform, and emerged shorn of feathers and political prestige.

The history of national third party innovations since the advent of the Republican Party in 1859, has been the history of success and failure. Ben Butler in 1884 championed the old Greenback Party, which ultimately went on the political rocks. The Populist Party blazed with refulgent glory for a few years and then expired with few mourners at its bedside. The Socialist and the Prohibition parties both sought national honors in several presidential campaigns only to fall alseep at the wayside.

In 1912 the brilliant and beloved Theodore Roosevelt, under the "Moose Banner," marched forward to fame and fortune, only to return after the general election a hero of bygone grandeur. The People's Party flickered for awhile and then passed away where times effacing finger will not longer trouble it. All Third Parties have flourished for a brief period and then passed onward to their reward.

TIRED

I'm tired—oh, so tired of the whole New Deal;
Of the juggler's smile; the barker's spiel;
Of the musey speech and the loud bassoon;
And the tiredest of all of our leader's croon.

Tired of taxes on my ham and eggs;
Tired of "payoffs" to political yeggs;
Tired of Jim Farley's stamps on my mail;
Tired of my shirt with its tax-shortened tail.

I'm tired of farmers goose-stepping to laws;
Of millions of itching job-holders' paws;
Of "fireside talks" over commandeered mikes;
Of passing more laws to stimulate strikes.

I'm tired of the hourly increasing debt;
I'm tired of promises still to be met;
Of eating and sleeping by government plan;
Of calmly forgetting the "Forgotten Man."

I'm tired of every new Brain Trust thought;
Of the ship of state now a pleasure yacht;
I'm tired of cheating the courts by stealth;
And terribly tired of sharing my wealth.

I'm tired of Eleanor on page one;
Of each royal "in-law" and favorite son,
I'm simply, completely fed up with it all.
I'm tired of "Sistie" and "Buzzie" Dall;

I'm tired and bored with the whole New Deal;
With its juggler's smile; its barker's spiel;
Lear Lord; out of all the available men
Please grant us a Cleveland or Coolidge again.

WASHINGTON, DROWSY MOUNTAIN HAMLET

H. M. L. Jr.

The death of Henry Kohler of Washington was a painful blow to the whole town and particularly to the little circle of old-timers who have known him since the day of horse-drawn stages. Kohler was the unofficial mayor of Washington, one of its principal property owners, and proprietor of the Washington-Nevada City stage as long as most inhabitants can remember. The old-timers of Washington have been drawn closely together by their years of semi-isolation in the little town that, though it is only seventeen miles from Nevada City, is kept all winter from close contact with Nevada City and the rest of the world by the practical difficulties of the tortuous four-mile stretch from the highway down to Washington. The elder citizens of the Yuba mining town, in their close-knit little group, unconsciously resent the intrusion of newcomers into their rural solitude. The sound of jazz music and voices raised in conviviality in the beer parlors is a cacophony to them, that disrupts the dreamy peacefulness of their town.

The music and voices floating drowsily from the bars, and an occasional carl load of miners coming in to buy supplies, are about all that interrupt the stillness of Washington. It is not a dead, musty quietness, that pervades the town, not a silence suggesting decay, but a pleasant, breathing, slumbering quiet; a quiet, natural and drowsy and restful, charming as the gurgle of the tiny creeks that crawl down the hill and into the Yuba. The wide empty main street of Washington with the fountain square in the center gives pleasure to the senses by its lack of irritating hustle and bustle that gives "liveness" to less gracious towns. There is a contentedness about the tall grey and white hotel buildings and the squat brown stone general merchandise store and bar. The aged, beautiful, flowering fruit trees that give so many ghost towns living beauty, are here too.

People who desire rest and quiet above other things in their summer vacations, have long made Washington a haven. There are several swimming pools on the Yuba a little above town. Their deep green coolness, shaded by big granite boulders, makes swimming quite different from the variety enjoyed in city pools swarming with yelling kids. There is excellent fishing on the South Fork of the Yuba near Washington as there is on Poor Man's Creek and other smaller tributaries of the river. The cost of vacationing in Washington is little more than the monthly grocery bill, for rents and real estate are almost incredibly low. A six room house with a spacious gardened lot sells for six or seven hundred dollars.

Solitude is often attractive to people who find the numerous joys of city life jading; in Washington solitude reaches a pleasant apotheosis.

People do not negotiate the road from the highway down to Washington, unless they have some very good reason. In four miles, the road drops almost two thousand feet from Harmony Ridge to the bottom of the Yuba river canyon. It is narrow and winding and rutted and dusty. It is bumpy. Riding horse back isn't as strenuous exercise as bumping down the grade to Washington, and thrills that are never found in horseback riding are given by the practised wild driving of the miners who live down in the Yuba canyon, know the Washington road like a book, and go through the book very rapidly indeed, hurtling around corners and burning up the road at a rate just short of explosion. The tranquility of Washington's broad shaded streets is doubly welcome after the hectic journey down from the ridge.

Everything in Washington seems at rest. Business is not active and neither are the forces of good or the forces of evil. The tiny white church is as placid in its disuse as is the little two-cell iron jail. Both have the appearance of having been used little when they were brand new and never, since then. Even the tumbly pickets in the weathered fences have an air of being at peace with the world. The sleepy summery streets of Washington give an impression of being grateful when their dust is not disturbed and the echoes of noise from the frame buildings of the town seem to speak in mild resentment at any sound but those of the river and the humming insects of the woods.

MERRIAM AND HATFIELD IN NIP AND TUCK RACE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—A nip and tuck race between Governor Frank F. Merriam and Lieut. Governor Gorge J. Hatfield for the Republican nomination for governor at the August primary was indicated today in the results of the state wide straw ballot taken by the Republican County Central Committee of San Francisco.

Hatfield has a slight lead in the balloting, the vote showing:

Hatfield	623
Merriam	608

Sol A. Abrams, secretary of the committee, announced that the straw vote had been taken in every county of the state, and among those polled were every member of the Republican State Central Committee, including Republican state office holders and legislators; members of the 58 Republican County Central Committees, and editors of daily and weekly newspapers throughout California.

Abrams stressed that the county committee has endorsed no candidates, and the poll was taken for information purposes only.

Hatfield led in 24 counties, Merriam in 22 counties, and they were tied in 5 counties. No votes were received from Alpine county, the smallest in the state.

The figures from the three largest counties showed Merriam leading Hatfield 3 to 2 in Los Angeles county; Hatlield leading Merriam 4 to 1 in Alameda county, and even up in San Francisco county. Sacramento and Fresno indicated Merriam 3 to 1 while Hatfield was ahead 3 to 1 in Contra Costa and Santa Clara counties.

In the southern counties, outside Los Angeles, Hatfield led in Riverside, Orange, Santa Barbara, Imperial, San Luis Obispo and San Diego. Kern and Ventura were even up. Merriam had a slight lead in Long Beach, his home town.

Raymond Haight, Progressive, who has announced he will run on the Republican ticket for governor, received 18 votes.

For Lieut. Governor, the straw vote showed Senator Jerrold Seawell of Roseville leading the field of prospective candidates.

Dr. Walter Scott Franklin of Santa Barbara, a recent entry, was runner up, with a strong showing. The results:

Senator Jerrold Seawell	332
Dr. Walter Scott Franklin	264
Senator Roy Nielsen	167
James Rolph	149

For United States Senator, Ray Riley, state railroad commissioner and former state controller ,rolled up a total of 901 votes. The poll was also taken on State Senator Walter McGovern of San Francisco and Michael F. Shannon of Los Angeles, as prospective candidates for the United States Senate, but they announced they were definitely not in the race, and asked to be withdrawn from any consideration in the balloting.

For Attorney General, District Attorney Earl Warren, of Alameda county, practically had the race to himself, the result being:

Earl Warren	917
Buron Fitts	172
Charles Son	21

The poll for attorney general was also taken on Superior Judge Pat R. Parker of Mono county but he asked that his name be withdrawn as he was not a candidate.

Many of those polled voted only for governor and not for candidates for other state office.

FOREST CAMPERS MUST HAVE SHOVEL AND AXE

Large signs requiring the carrying of shovel and axe by camping parties within the national forests have just been mailed to the leading hardware stores in the vicinity of the Tahoe National forest, according to DeWitt Nelson, forest supervisor at Nevada City. Nelson states that for the information of the camping public in determining what are the regular or minimum size and weight specifications for the shovel and the axe, the following hardware stores are featuring attractive window displays showing the regulation shovel and axe.

WINSTON'S BAND AT OLYMPIA PARK SATURDAY

The Bal Tabarin has featured such bands as Kay Kyser, Happy Felton, Tom Gerun and Carol Lofner but Winston and his fine organization outdistanced these great bands, breaking all records in staying thirty two weeks.

PATSY KYSER
With Winston's Band

Winston has been broadcasting nightly over NBC and also transcontinentially. An indication of the success of the band is the flood of fan mail that has poured in, night after night. Winston has a long string of successful engagements behind him including the Little Club in Shanghai, China, Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco. Plaza in San Antonio and the Bal Tabarin Cafe in San Francisco.

The Winston crew is a versatile one. The basic instrumentation of the band is two violins, three saxes, one trombone, one trumpet, piano, base and drums. Out of this combination may be had four violins, four brass and four saxes, allowing for a wide scope of tone coloring with the ability to either play swing or sweet.

One of the greatest attractions ever seen at the Bal Tabarin in San Francisco is Patsy Parker, starring with Winston. Patsy is a striking blonde with a Martha Raye style of singing. She trucks and dances and leads the band and has stopped show after show wherever she has played.

Winston is a University of California graduate and the possessor of two degrees in music. He is noted as one of the finest arrangers in San Francisco and has also taught vocal at NBC. Warner Bros. is flying Winston down for an extensive screen test within the next month. His voice was first heard on the air and when the scouts visited the Bal Tabarin in San Francisco they were immediately sold on Winston as a picture prospect. As Winston has had considerable dramatic training, acting would be very much in his line.

interstate commerce. They have in some instances stopped production at its source.

They have entered industrial plants and places of business whose employees did nat want their assistance. By armed pickets in massed formation, they have prevented men and women entering their usual places of employment. They have preveneted hundreds of thousands of workers from performing their usual tasks.

In General Motors alone they caused a loss of wage earners of a million dollars a day for forty two days. In Chyrsler, they caused a wage loss of ten million dollars; they caused a loss to the retail merchants of Detroit and vicinity of six million dollars; to the wholesalers, seven million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars.

MILLIONS LOST

The loss they have caused throughout the country since the first of this year runs to hundreds of millions, and the workers, whom they are pretending to help, are paying the cost.

By force and arms they have taken and held possession of the executive offices of General Motors and of Chrysler. They seized hotels, used the rooms, helped themselves to food and the contents of the bar.

They have blockaded the U. S. highways, forcing citizens to detour for miles to reach their destination.

They have taken possession of rail roads engaged in interstate commerce—prevented the movement of freight.

They have shot down airplanes carrying food to besieged workers, endangering the lives of pilots.

PROPERTY CONFISCATED

In Pontiac, Michigan, they have already taken steps toward the confiscation of property, a necessary prelude to a successful Communist revolution, by refusing to pay rent for their homes, unless and until the rentals are reduced to a figure which they care to pay.

They have caused men to endanger their lives by swimming the river at Warren, Ohio, in order to get to their work.

They have marched, armed and breathing threats of violence, from one city to another; from one state to another.

They have assaulted and beaten peaceful workers. By sending their pickets to homes, they have intimidated wives and children of workers.

They have defied the orders of the Courts. They have refused to abide by those laws which govern all others, claiming a special privilege to beat workers, to destroy property, and to escape punishment therefor, because they were members of the CIO.

GOVERNMENT DEFIED

They have successfully defied local, state and national governments. They are the first to successfully twist the beard and slap the face of Uncle Sam by interfering with the United States mail, as they have done, and are doing, at Youngstown, Ohio.

They have sufficient political influence to obtain from the Post Office Department of the United States according to the papers, a ruling which bars from the mail parcels of food intended for those barricaded in factories who desire to work.

They have even resorted to kidnapping loyal workers.

They have attempted to prevent the reopening of a steel mill when the owners, the workers themselves, and the entire community wanted it re-opened, failing only because of the courageous action of a Mayor who persevered even when the Governor refused to give him the protection he demanded.

PUBLIC HELATH MENACED

They have cut off the electric light and power supply from large areas, endangering the lives and health of hundreds of thousands of peaceful, law-abiding men, women and children. And this was done in spite of the fact that the company involved had signed a written contract with CIO.

They have taken possession of the Capital of a great state—Lansing, Michigan—stopping traffic and business; driving buses and taxicabs off the streets; closing a newspaper plant, stores, theatres, barber shops and restaurants. Then they swarmed over the lawn of the Capitol and "sat down" in the office of the Governor, who told them he knew "of no better use for a state Capitol."

FOOLISH GOVERNOR

They have shouted at this lawless demonstration that they "are demonstrating the irresistable power of labor"—to which Governor Murphy, standing bare-headed before the throng, replied: "It should be obvious to anyone that a crowd like this could not want anthing wrong. While I, as Governor, can prevent it, no injustice will be doe you in Michigan." And then he did an injustice to Justice itself and asked for the release of eight arrested pickets as demanded by the CIO.

They have created semi-military organizations, with trained officers, to be used as "Flying Squardons" leading strikers in acts of mob violence.

They have openly boasted that they instruct their new members to join the National Guard so that when trouble comes it will be a "CIO Guard."

They have announced that they have political plans centering upon Detroit's City Hall, which they are going to "take away from the bankers, Fascists, and politicians," and make "the best picket in the union the Detroit Chief of Police."

PEACEFUL WORKERS

They have openly intimidated peaceful workers—giving them just 12 hours to conform to their demand that these workers quit their jobs—threatening "after that time your safety will be you own responsibility."

COURT DEFIED

They have replied to court orders directing pickets to give up "clubs, baseball bats, black-jacks and other weapons" with the statement that "sinister and bloody things are in the offing," and that "the pickets will no longer permit their lines to be broken, cost what it may."

This defiance of the law, this interference with Federal activities, is but the natural result of that course followed by national and state governments which, by silence, on occasion by act, often by forebearance, have given full approval to the acts of those who defy lawful authority.

All these things they do—not once—but repeatedly, almost continuously, and the Senate-Lafollette Civil Liberties Commiteee remains silent. That Committee is ever alert to call witnesses to bring to public attention every partisan, every unlawful, act of employer.

COMMITTEE COMPLACENT

The Committee is blind to the hundreds of acts of violence, of intimidation, of oppression, of the CIO workers. That Committee refuses to protect those who desire to work. That Committee does not prohibit the CIO from using the Committee's name in its organizing campaign.

On the hoods of cars accompanying CIO'S "Flying Squadron" there has been displayed a banner with the legend, "United States Senate Car, LaFollette Civil Liberties Committee, Investigators."

This Committee is a partisan supporter of the CIO. Upon its shoulders rests a portion of the responsibility for the bloodshed which has come, which will follow. When anarchy is widespread, when civil war comes, when streets run red with blood, after thousands of innocent people have been killed, it will be too late for this Committee to take action against the CIO.

PRESIDENT'S NAME USED

CIO is fraudulently using the name of the President to further its purpose.

It has issued literature stating in substance.

"The President desires you to join the CIO. President Roosevelt is back of us."

Neither the President nor the Department of Justice has prohibited this use of his name .

The CIO proudly boasts that, under its leadership, under the CIO banner, labor is on the march.

Let us look at the color of the banner, examine the kind of leadership, and determine the goal toward which they are marching.

SOVIET AMERICA

The banner is the red banner of Soviet Russia. About this there can be no mistake. The placards on the picket lines bear the mottoes made popular by Red Moscow. Their leadership is largely Communist and with them march anarchists, I. W. W.'s, and preachers and doers of violence. Their goal is fittingly expressed by two major CIO leaders, Victor and Walter Reuther, who have urged, "Carry on the fight for a Soviet America."

American labor is not on the march. Communism is on the march. Lawlessness is on the march. The destruction of property rights—the destruction of human rights—the destruction of our Government—are next. This is the goal toward which Lewis and his CIO are heading.

RUSSIA HONORS LEWIS

The Communists know this and already they have undertaken to show their appreciation. They have placed the name of John L. Lewis on their Honor Roll for 1937, along with such Communist luminaries as Stalin, Browder, Caballero and Krhypnin. In Moscow, in the Museum of Revolution, the map of the United States has been changed and the city of Detroit has been renamed "Lewistown".

A clergyman, a national figure, discloses that shortly after Frank Murphy returned from the Philippines to become a candidate for governor of Michigan, he quoted President Roosevelt as saying:

"If Communism breaks in America, it will be in the Deroit area, where it will manifest itself first"

COMMUNISM IN MICHIGAN

That prophesy, according to Murphy, has become true for Murphy, at the time of the Detroit strikes, according to the same authority, said:

Communism is not coming. It is here. The only thing now needed is for them to begin confiscating property."

The confiscation of property is on its way. It is here. At Pontiac, Michigan, tenants hold possession of the landlord's property and refuse to pay rent, even in cases where they concede the rent to be reasonable in amount.

The CIO is not an organization either devised or used to advance the welfare of the worker.

John L. Lewis, in 1924, before his viewpoint had been warped by his consuming personal ambition, speaking of a similar movement, accurately described his own present organization and its purpose in these words:

"The movement is aimed not only at the labor unions, but at the entire industrial, social and political structure of the country, and with the single aim of eventually establishing a Soviet dictatorship in the United States."

LEWIS IN OTHER DAYS

He was then talking good sense. He was then speaking for the worker. The advice which he then gave we can adopt and follow. It was this:

"This is one occasion when labor and the employer might very well join hands and fight together."

Law is the safeguard of liberty—the defense of human society. Without law there may be license but not liberty. The law violator allies himself with the enemies of orzanized government. The CIO violates the law and allies itself with the enemies of human progress.

Today the fight is on. Labor, the employer, and the public must not go down before the onward march of Communism. True Americans must join hands and fight together to triumph over the disloyal forces of disorder and destruction. They must STOP LEWIS and SMASH COMMUNISM!

THIS MUST BE AMERICA'S ANSWER!

The centerpiece was a Maypole, a large stick of striped candy, tiny streamers from it were at ached to other smaller sticks of candy and they were presented as favors. GIANT KING IN RENO LITIGATION

In Reno, Nevada, last week Geo. S. Clack was served with a complaint charging him with improper use of funds in connection with business transactions in Nevada County. He has been carrying on mining operations in Nevada County several years.

Clack had a lease on the Giant King mine at Washington which is now tied up with litigation and has been closed down several months. A sale in bankruptcy of the Chollar Extension mining company which was interested in the Giant King mine, is being held in Reno tomorrow. The action takes place in the council chamber in the city hall at Reno.

Litigation has tied up a potential producer and it is thought this action will clear the Giant King and leave it open for sale or lease. William Luce of Reno is one of the principal owners in the property which is known as the Giant King Mining Company.

Three tunnels have been driven into the side of the steep mountain on a wide vein that carries good values. The ore is exposed on one side. Hal D. Draper, local assayer, will go to Reno tomorrow to attend the bankruptcy sale.

MONKEY CLIMBERS!

Helen Thurston, a pretty, little Hollywood blonde, thought that she could climb a rope as fast as a monkey, so——here they are off to a good start, at the halfway mark.

Mortimer Mopus—that's the monkey's name—cinched the race for himself, by stepping on the young lady's——wrist and hopping to a safe landing, proceeded to wrap himself around the beam, like the fur on a lady's coat collar. The Hollywood girl didn't win this time—but she certainly proved that there must be something to what Darwin preached.

AUBURN GOLD RUSH SEEKS A QUEEN TO RULE

Under the supervision of the Business and Professional Womens Association the queen contest for the 5th Annal Gold Rush Revival is rapidly getting into shape.

You will find published herewith an official notice of the dates of the various judgings and the rules and regulations and prizes.

The Grass Valley and Nevada City units of the association are now cooperating with the Auburn branch and we may be assured of a most lovely and dignified spectacle with some of the lovliest girls of the Mother Lode who will participate in this unique and beautiful part of the Gold Rush Revival. Each of the districts will choose four girls from those who appear at the various theatres on the dates set forth giving twelve in all for the finals. Judges selected by the sponsors from out side of the district will then select one winner. The first prize of the Hollywood trip will be followed by the other fine prizes as set forth in the announcement.

The first judging by popular applause will be at Auburn at the State Theatre on the evening of the 14th at which a large number of contestants will be present. The show of that evening will also comprise the Imperial School of the Dance under direction of Viola LaVerne Aronson who is famous for her beautiful interpretations and lend to the occasion a spectacle of beauty in keeping with the high plane upon which the whole arrangement will be conducted.

The Business Women of Auburn are now arranging with those of Grass Valley and Nevada City that all may work toward a just and eminently fair judgment of the contestants that the entire arrangement will be one of loveliness and dignity.
